Interesting Railroad Talk Which, if True, Means a Great Deal
To This Section.

The following from the Cincinnati Enquirer is of interest to Big Sandians. It is not correct in all details, but is probably true in general:

The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad Company, it is reported, has scored one of the biggest "scops" in the history of the railroad world in tapping the coal fields of the Consolidation Coal Company in Kentucky and making itself the eastern outlet to the Great Lakes. Official announcement of this great railroad deal is expected within the next two months and will result in placing the C. H. and D. on "easy street" so far as its future financial condition is concerned.

For months the railroad world has been trying to figure out what interests are paying $2,000,000 for the construction of 35 miles of railroad between Jenkins, Ky., the headquarters of the Consolidation Coal and Coke Company, and the mouth of the Shelby River, at Shelby, Ky., to connect with the C. and O. After considerable speculation it was decided that the coal interests were building the line, as the L. and N. and C. and O. appeared to have nothing to do with it.

Now, however, it appears that the real interests in the building of the branch is the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, which is the owner of the C. H. and D. The road is being built at a cost of $60,000 per mile, and is said to be the most perfectly constructed road in the United States. The question probably will be asked, "What connection can a little branch line of 35 miles in length have with a railroad system which has its lower terminal over 100 miles away?" It develops, however, that a survey recently made by the Baltimore and Ohio, and paralleling the C. and O. from Shelby to Ashland, Ky., makes it possible for the Baltimore and Ohio-C. H. and D. interests to build a line to the Ohio River, connecting with the C. H. and D. at fronton, giving a direct line to the lakes. Another way is also open to the C. H. and D. terminal at fronton, and that is a traffic agreement with the C. and O. As that road is perhaps the one most directly affected by the shrewd move of the B. and O., it is likely that, in order to get any of the immense business expected as a result of the Consolidation Company's development of that section of Kentucky, the C. and O. will readily agree to sign a traffic agreement whereby the C. H. and D. will profit more largely than at any time in its history.

The fine hand of the Morgan interests seems to be in evidence, as any improvement of the financial condition of the C. H. and D. will result to their benefit when the final sale of the road is made to the Baltimore and Ohio. It will be remembered that when the B. and O. took over the C. H. and D. it was agreed that in seven years the price fixed by arbitrators at the end of that period was to be the purchase price of the property, and the more valuable the Morgan interests can make the road the more money they shall get out of it when the final sale is made.

It also appears that the B. and O.-C. H. and D. combination, C. and O. and Clinchfield and the Louisville and Nashville are not the only roads which are interested in the tapping of the Consolidation Company's field. According to report the Norfolk and Western is also contemplating coming into the fold, and now has under consideration plans for the construction of a branch line from Norton, Va., into the Elkhorn district, a distance of about 20 miles, thus giving this district an outlet through Norfolk to the Atlantic Ocean.

Another line said to be interested in the fields is the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, which controls the Louisville and Nashville. Michael Jenkins, after whom the metropolis of the coal fields was named, is largely interested in this railroad as well as in the Consolidation Company, and reports has it that this road will also get in on the handling of coal from these great fields.

Kentucky's Coke.

According to Mr. E. W. Parker, whose article is published by the United States Geological Survey, the production of coke in Kentucky for 1910 was 53,837 short tons of the value of $129,554 as against 46,371 short tons of the value of $101,257 in 1909. A healthy increase, with the further information given that the greater part of the coke output was in Western Kentucky, Mr. Parker says:

"Kentucky is the only one of the United States whose coal supplies are drawn from any two of the great fields. The eastern counties of the state are underlain by the coal measures of the Appalachian region, and the southern extremity of the eastern interior or Illinois-Indiana field is worked extensively in the western part of Kentucky."

That means that Kentucky is the tie that binds—the one state in the union possessing beneath her soil, and only needing to be fully developed, two distinct fields of bituminous coal with their separate but most valuable qualities. One field coming in from the east, and the other from the west, crossing the Ohio and extending southwardly yielding wealth with the opening of each new mine, with the wealth adding to the income of the operative and to the operator. The report of Mr. Parker is exhaustive. It shows the utmost care throughout—and it shows the way to further increases. Kentucky receiving mineral wealth that crosses the Appalachian range and crosses the Ohio, ought to show her appreciation of the bounties of nature and increase them by development. —Owensboro Messenger.

APPELLATE COURT AFFIRMS

Decision of Lawrence Court in Big Damage Case.

The Court of Appeals affirmed the case of Oscar Waller, Administrator, vs. J. A. Collinsworth from Lawrence county. Collinsworth sold hard cider to Oscar Waller and Ben Blankenship, which made them drunk and Waller was killed by Blankenship. Waller's administrator sued Collinsworth for $10,000 damages because he sold the intoxicating drink unlawfully which caused the killing. The court says Collinsworth's act in selling liquor was not the efficient cause of Waller's death and therefore no recovery can be had; that so many elements enter into homicide that it is impossible to say that it is the natural result of intoxication.

Death of Mrs. Sullivan.

After an illness of many months which she bore with fortitude and Christian resignation Mrs. Henry Pinson died at her residence in this city on Sunday night last, aged about thirty years. She was buried the next day beside her father, Elbert Wilson, and her infant child. The place of interment was on the Busseyville road, some three or four miles from Louisville. Mrs. Wilson was an estimable woman. She came of good people, and was an excellent daughter, sister and wife. Many friends mourn the loss of one who in the varied relations of life lived worthy and blameless.

UNDERGOES OPERATION.

Mrs. Charles Martin, of Buchanan county, Va., is here for treatment by Dr. T. D. Burgess. An operation for her relief was necessary, permanent relief being impossible without one. On Wednesday morning Dr. Burgess, assisted by Dr. G. W. Wroten, successfully performed the operation and Mrs. Martin is doing well.

SHOOTING AFFAIR.

Wayne County Citizen Wounded by Alleged Kidnappers.

About noon of Friday last, June 9, two men went to the livery stable of Queen & Queen, this city, and hired a double rig, saying they wanted to go to a point on Trace branch, some seven or eight miles from Fort Gay, on the Wayne road. The men said they were from Russell county, Va., and one of them said his name was Henry Clark. They got the rig and started. Near the West Virginia end of the bridge they were joined by a third man, and this was the last seen or heard of them until later in the day. They told Will Queen they would be back by three or four o'clock, and not returning by that time and longer Mr. Queen became uneasy and phoned to some parties in Fort Gay to look out for them. About dark he got a message from Fort Gay to come and get his team. He immediately went to Fort Gay, where he heard what had taken place. Clark, it seems, had some time ago married a daughter of Squire Huff, who lives near the mouth of Trace not far from the little village of Echo and has several children. One child was born of the union of Clark and Miss Huff, but the marriage was not a happy one and the couple separated, the woman going back to her father, Clark, so it is said, had made several overtures of reconciliation, none of which was successful. It was to get his wife to live with him again, or failing in this to get possession of his child that he hired the Louisa rig and with his two friends made his trip to the Huff home. It is said that he left the team and went alone to the house and tried to get his wife to take the child and go with him. This she refused to do, and he seized the child and started with it to the carriage. One report has it that he got into the carriage with the child and was driving off with it, when the Huffs, appeared on the scene. A demand was made for the release of the child. It was met with a refusal, and then, as the war correspondents say, each side unlimbered its artillery and the engagement became general, Clark and his friends on one side and the old Squire and his sons on the other. Bullets flew fast and wide, two taking effect in the knee of one of the Huff boys. No one else was hurt, and Clark and his friends fled, leaving the child. News of the affray was phoned to Fort Gay and "Little" John Billups, who is a deputy sheriff, and County Prosecutor Dan Hardwick, with some others started in pursuit. Clark was captured and taken to Wayne jail, but the other two escaped. It is said that Clark is not the one whose bullets found lodgment in Huff's leg. The Queens received their team in good order, and so far as they are concerned the incident is closed. The next term of the Wayne Circuit Court will attend to the people's side of the case.

HIT WITH A BRICK.

W. G. Whitt, formerly employed by the C. and O. railroad, now an insurance agent and also a prominent citizen of this place was hit on the head with a brick on Front Street between 18th and 19th street in Ashland Saturday night badly hurt. A man named McDonald, who threw the brick made his escape.—Russell Times.

RAILROAD UP BEAVER.

It is expected that a railroad will soon be built up Beaver creek. The Beaver Creek Consolidated Coal Company has had the road surveyed, with the view of ascertaining the probable cost of building it. It is expected that they will immediately start to procure the rights-of-way.

FESTIVAL AT GARRED CHAPEL.

There will be an ice cream festival at Garred Chapel, on Saturday night, June 24, for the benefit of the Sunday school. Everybody is cordially invited.

OLIVE SHANNON, Sec.

A Good Man Gone.

On Thursday last, June 8, Amos Cordie, a patriarch of the Blaine country, died at his home on Brushy of the infirmities of age. Burial was made on the following day. He left a large number of children, among whom is Enoch Cordie, of this city, and numerous grandchildren, numbering, as one who knew him well said, probably a hundred. Mr. Cordie was in every respect a good man and citizen. One who knew him intimately remarked that it would take much time to record his many excellent traits of character. Such men as "Uncle" Amos are much missed and deeply regretted when the Reaper cuts them down.

Church Dedication.

Sunday last was an interesting day at Elkhorn City, near the Breaks of Sandy, the occasion being the dedication of the church recently erected at that point. It is a handsome structure, built at a cost of $4500. A very large number of people had gathered from various points, a special train being required to carry the people from Pikeville. The dedication sermon was preached by the Rev. Dr. J. A. Robinson, of Cincinnati, who came as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Freeman, of Ashland, both of whom have been active and helpful in the work of establishing the Elkhorn City church.

Some of Us Feel Old.

Invitations to attend the sixth annual commencement exercises of the Jeanette, (La.) High School have been sent to some Louisians by Miss Leonie Poirson, a member of the graduating class. Miss Poirson is a granddaughter of Leo Frank, formerly of this city, and a daughter of his daughter Inez, for whom the county seat of Martin was named. The graduation of his grandchild must remind Leo, as it does some of us here, of the rapid flight of time. We congratulate Miss Maud Leonie Poirson.

FIVE KILLED.

N. & W. Locomotive Slaughtered a Party of Men at Laeger.

Williamson, W. Va., June 9.—The grim reaper in the form of a railroad engine ploughed its way through five human bodies Tuesday night on the curve east of Laeger station, and the toll demanded was four lives, while it is believed that a colored man who was struck will also die from injuries received. Two of those hit were prisoners in charge of Constable James Payne and John Ashworth, a school teacher, who was acting as a deputy constable, both of whom were killed, while another was Ed Jones, of Jackson, Ohio, who is supposed to have been a traveling man, but this fact could not be verified here.

CUPID'S CAVORTINGS.

On Wednesday, June 7, Miss Sue Weddington and Charles Vanhoose, of Fort Gay, W. Va., were married in this city by the Rev. Mr. Huletto. The groom formerly lived in this city.

On Saturday, June 10, Lily Hutchinon and Fletcher Christian, both of Wayne county, W. Va., were married in the clerk's office by County Judge Boggs.

SUCCESSFUL SALE.

Mrs. W. L. Reid and Miss Sallie Gearhart, Captains of Church Workers, M. E. Church, South, held an ice cream sale in the Court House yard last Saturday evening. The cream and cake, both excellent, were all disposed of and the cry, like that of Oliver Twist, was for more.

U. C. T.

The annual meeting of the United Commercial Travelers of this section was held in Huntington. It was numerous and hilariously attended. Quite a large delegation went from Louisa. The next meeting will be held in Richmond, Va.

EXAMINER ASSAULTED.

State Board Educator Beaten by Applicant at Fort Gay.

While a teacher's examination was in progress at the schoolhouse in Fort Gay, W. Va., on Friday last, a disagreement of some kind arose between E. S. Whitney, of Charleston, who was an examiner or supervisor of examinations, and Burwell Watts, an applicant for a certificate, who lives on the waters of Twelve Pole, Wayne county. After the examination was over and the applicants were going away Watts, so it is said, went up to Whitney and struck him a blow with his fist which felled him to the ground. It is further said that Watts partially raised Whitney from the ground and twice repeated the blow. The blow or the fall rendered the man unconscious, and he was carried into the West Virginia hotel, where he remained in this condition several hours. His wife was sent for and she arrived next day, accompanied by a physician. Whitney was taken to his home Saturday.

Another account says Whitney not feeling well and had left the examination room and was sitting out of doors when the assault occurred. Also, that he did not see Watts when the first blow was struck. Watts was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $300. Watts says he struck the man because he refused to extend the time allotted for preparation of papers on one branch in the examination. Whitney explained that the law fixed the limit and he had no power to extend the time.

Mr. Vaughan in Mason Co.

Mr. W. J. Vaughan, of this place, recently attended a big Sunday school meeting in Mason county. The Maysville Bulletin in speaking of that occasion said:

Mr. W. J. Vaughan, of Louisa, Field Worker for Kentucky Sunday School Association, told of the great missionary work that was being accomplished by association among the mountain people of Kentucky. address at the Virginia State Sunday School Convention. Virginia Mr. Vaughan recently delivered an address at a general assembly of the Executive committee unanimously voted for Mr. Vaughan. Although the position was a promotion at an increased salary, he refused to leave the people of Kentucky, to whom he is so loyal, and the work which he loves so well. The people of the Bluegrass admire Vaughan as well as the mountain people and some day Kentucky may reward his loyalty by sending him to Congress.

HOME FROM CENTER.

Fred Vinson and Fred See, graduates in law from Center College, Danville, Ky., arrived home Wednesday. These young men are fully meeting the hopes of their friends and relatives. They have chosen a profession which has great possibilities for an ambitious young man. Both possess the qualities which make for them success in the battle of life, and that they may attain this victory is the sincere desire of all who know them.

PIGGS-HAYS.

On last Saturday afternoon, at the residence of James Compton, near this place Miss Susie, daughter of Theodore Pigg, was married to Lindsay Hays, son of Al Hays, of this city. Both these young people are highly esteemed and popular, and the good wishes of many friends and relatives are theirs. The Rev. H. B. Huletto spoke the words which made them man and wife.

A FINE IMPROVEMENT.

Dr. T. D. Burgess is making some fine improvements in his Lock avenue residence. The wooden addition to the main brick building is being veneered with brick, and a concrete porch, running along the entire front will be constructed. The additions and improvements will add much to the good looks of the residence.

Kentucky Mining Institute.

The organization of the Kentucky Mining Institute at Lexington Monday, having as one of its objects the development of Kentucky's mineral resources, is a praiseworthy movement. The membership of the organization embraces some of the best known mining men in Kentucky. Prof. C. J. Norwood, director of the State Geological Survey, has been largely instrumental in bringing about the formation of the institute. John B. Atkinson, of Earlington, who was elected president, has always taken an active interest in Kentucky development. The same may be said of State Senator Bosworth, Col. Crump and others who are members of the new organization.

Statistics made public at the meeting for the first time show that Kentucky's commercial output of coal for 1910 amounted to 14,572,683 tons. The Western coal district produced more than 8,000,000 tons; the Southeastern district more than 4,000,000 tons and the Northeastern district nearly 2,000,000 tons. This shows a remarkable increase of production over the year 1909 when the output amounted to 10,697,384 tons.

Kentucky's coal industry is growing rapidly and she still has thousands of square miles of undeveloped territory. There are other mining industries of importance, such as asphalt, fluorspar and phosphate, for which there are great possibilities. It is well that an organization has been effected which has for its chief aim the promotion of our mineral industries and the development of latent resources. There is a field of great usefulness for the Kentucky Mining Institute.—Courier-Journal.

Mr. M. L. Conley, General Manager of the Ohio & Kentucky railway and the mines at Cannel City, has been elected treasurer of the new organization.

More Saloons For Williamson.

Beginning July first, Williamson will have five saloons, instead of two as heretofore, all the applicants for permits and State license having been accommodated by council and the county court.

M. F. Meek was granted a permit by the council but did not ask for State license before the county court, he having in the meantime decided not to engage in business.

Outside the city of Williamson all applications were granted except that of Jerom Robinson, at Kermit, who failed to secure a permit from Kermit council, and the Cedar Liquor Co., at Cedar.

Teachers' Institute.

The Wayne County Teachers' Institute will be held at Ceredo, commencing on the 21st day of August. In making up the Schedule, State Superintendent Shaway, stated that the Institute would be held at Wayne, but later the mistake was noticed and the correction made. According to the schedule, Prof. H. B. Work, of Wheeling; Prof. J. M. Callahan, of Morgantown, and Prof. W. H. Leonhart, of Guyandotte will be the instructors.

LOCAL CITIZENS LOST CASE.

About twenty citizens of Lawrence county who signed a note for $3000 to pay for a German Coach Stallion a few years ago will have to pay the amount under judgment of the United States Court. Notwithstanding the fraud claimed and said to be shown in connection with the deal the victims lost because the note passed into the hands of an innocent purchaser.

SPECIAL TRAIN.

A special N. and W. train carrying 180 teachers to the West Virginia Educational Convention at Bluefield passed through Fort Gay about noon Wednesday. The B. & O. brought a large number from the section through which it passes and these were taken on the special at Kenova.

TUNNEL COLLAPSED.

The Dingers tunnel on the N. & W. fell in yesterday, thereby compelling the "Tadpole" trains to pass on the Tug river track. No one was injured.

FOREMOST CLOTHES OF INTEREST Young M MANY STATES

As a Important News Gathered from Abroad for the Benefit of Our Readers.

James Richardson, a 19-year-old negro, was found guilty of manslaughter at Newark, O. for his complicity in the death of Carl Etherington, a Kentuckian.

Sixty-three persons were killed, seventy-five wounded and a property loss estimated at $100,000 was sustained as the result of an earthquake which visited Mexico City early Wednesday morning.

After an illness of several months Mrs. Carrie Nation died of paresis in the hospital at Leavenworth, Kan. She was a native Kentuckian and it is said her first husband's inebriety caused her antipathy for the saloon.

A negro woman named Mattie Loma is under sentence to be hanged in Washington July 31 for the murder of her husband. She will be the first woman to be executed in the capitol since Mrs. Surratt was hanged in 1865.

Bodford, Ind., June 6.—Under the foundation of a house built before the Civil War and more than three feet from the top of the ground workmen today engaged in raising the structure found a pint of liquor in an old-time bottle. It was so aged it was as thick as maple syrup.

Judge E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, in discussing the absorption of the laid emphasis on President Roosevelt's approval of the act. The witness proclaimed J. Pierpont Morgan as the godfather of the trust.

The actual hanging of Roger Warren, the negro convict who was hanged in the yard of the Franklin county jail on May 23, cost the State of Kentucky just $118.70. This amount includes the shipping, and erecting of the scaffold, taking it down and reshipping it and some other little expenses.

Sheriff Buckley received a warrant for this sum from the State.

Boston, Mass.—One of the most unusual petitions in a divorce case ever known in Boston and one that made every lawyer and official at the county court house take notice, was that contained in the divorce complaint of Mrs. Bertha Schwartz, of this city, against David Schwartz in which she asks for the custody of her unborn child. Mrs. Schwartz says she takes this step to prevent any attempt of the husband to obtain the custody of the child, which is soon to be born, after the divorce is granted.

Paris, Ky., June 8.—Last night about 9 o'clock as Miss Helen Conlin, a trained nurse, was returning from a visit to a drug store en route to the residence of Richard Brown, where she was waiting on a patient, a negro man stepped out from the shadow of a telephone pole, and seizing her by the arm and waist attempted to drag her behind the seed house of J. S. Wilson and Bro. on Winchester str.

Miss Conlin fought the negro and screamed, and in the struggle to release herself from his clutches, scratched his face and bit him on the arm several times. The negro finally released her and ran in the direction of Clayville, a negro suburb. Miss Conlin made her way to the Brown home, where the alarm was given and the police were soon on the scene, but were unable to get a trace of her assailant.

Owensboro, Ky., June 8.—Thousands of farmers, together with women and children, were in the tobacco fields before sunrise this morning and remained there until sundown, setting out tobacco plants following the rain of Monday night. The Green River section was visited by a rain that will mean thousands of dollars to the farmers. There had not been more than 30 per cent. of the tobacco crop planted, and there had not been a season for more than two weeks, sixty per cent. of the crop will have been planted by the end of the week.

A little pair of worn and dog-eared baby shoes arrived in Lexington the other day from Missouri after a wandering trip of over 100 years, during which they have travelled fully 20,000 miles, always following the stork. They have been on the feet of about 250 babies during the six generations from the year 1783 when the shoes were made.

Andrew Merrill, a Revolutionary soldier of the "Jersey Line," after serving seven years, came to Kentucky when the final victory was won at Yorktown and settled in Clark county, near the Estill line. There he married at Miss Oldham and in due course little Nicholas D. Merrill needed a pair of shoes to toddle around in. His father raised the heifer, tanned the leather and stitched the shoes with his own hands. His good wife handed them down to the "first son" of every generation of the family branches.

The business man who saves a dollar or two a year by using "sloppy" and inartistic printed stationery, such as letter heads, bill heads, statements, tags, etc., stands a chance of losing hundreds by the impression of cheapness and stinginess that he conveys to every man who sees any of it. Nothing pays so well as neat business stationery and the difference in cost over the other kind is too small to consider.

SCIENTIFIC CORN GROWING.

It is to be hoped that many Kentucky farmers are reading the letters of Frank G. Carpenter in the Sunday Courier-Journal, in which he is telling some of the things that are being accomplished by scientific farming. Mr. Carpenter has gone to the fountain head of information for his facts. He is getting his data from the Department of Agriculture in Washington. Otherwise it might be suspected that he had taken to writing fairy stories.

It may be difficult for some of our Kentucky farmers to understand how a Southern boy could grow 228 bushels and three pecks of corn on a single acre of land; how twenty boys in South Carolina could raise 1,700 bushels of corn on twenty acres; how numbers of boys all over the South have made records of more than 100 bushels to the acre in corn growing in States where the average of production is twenty bushels to the acre or less. These things are not easily understood by the farmer who is plugging along, more or less contentedly, in the same way that his grandfather did, about the only difference being that he has not improved upon his grandfather's crop records because he has allowed his land to deteriorate.

Mr. Carpenter has been looking into the archives of the Agricultural Department pretty thoroughly and he tells us that in the past four or five years scientific farming has added hundreds of millions of dollars to the value of the American harvest. He shows from the figures, official and indisputable, that the corn crop in nine Southern States in the year 1910 was bigger by 158,000,000 bushels than the crop of the year previous. The South in 1910 raised one-third of all the corn in the United States. Good old Dr. Knapp is dead, but his corn clubs are marching on.

Kentucky has not been as progressive in these matters as the Southern States have been, but Kentucky is waking up, and the boys' corn clubs are getting busy in every part of the Commonwealth. Some good records were made last year. This year there will be better records and more of them, and after awhile the honest farmer who is farming on the antediluvian plan will sit up and take notice.

WEST VIRGINIA NEIGHBORS.

NEWS FROM COUNTIES JUST ACROSS THE RIVER IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Mrs. Martha Ferguson widow of G. W. Ferguson deceased has been very sick for several weeks. Her recovery is doubtful.

The legislature accomplished nothing on account of Democratic obstruction tactics.—Ceredo Advance. Pity the Democrats were not able to get in a little "obstruction" several years ago.

The Dawson-Glasscock futile attempt to legislate a faction of the republican party into continued supremacy cost the state $21,084. Here are the figures: Per diem of members, officers and attaches of the senate, 3,616; per diem of members, officers and attaches of the house, 6,068; Mileage of members of senate, 1,300; mileage of members of house, 3,400; contingent expense of senate, 1,500; contingent expenses of House, 3,000; janitor for 300; total appropriated, 19,084; printing etc., 2,000. Grand total, 21,084.

The Herald-Dispatch in a recent issue stated that the tobacco crop is short of the usual amount raised. We believe that the Dispatch is right. The price last year is causing the farmers to plant a larger crop of corn and less tobacco. The price this year may be good and those who raise it may do the right thing. Anyhow it would be safe to risk, an acre or two, then if the price is low no one will be hurt much. Suppose the price of cattle is low one year that does not necessarily mean the price would be low next season. The law of supply and demand regulate prices. Set all the plants you can and risk it anyhow.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of expressing our heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our baby. Their acts of kindness will ever be remembered. May God bless you all.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

Morehead, Ky., June 2.—Three deaths occurred in Morehead this afternoon within a few hours of each other. The first was Mrs. Hansford Carter, aged 25 years, a young married woman, who died of blood poison. A few hours later Mrs. Elizabeth Short, aged 83 years, died of the infirmities of age, and in a few hours death claimed Mrs. Amanda Day, a venerable woman and mother of C. E. Day, of Washington; Thomas A. Day, city marshal of Morehead, and three other sons. All will be buried at the same cemetery tomorrow.

Col. Scott Stevens, aged 22 years, town marshal of Olive Hill, was shot about 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Calvin Phillips, C. & O. section foreman. The two men were good friends, but, according to our report, Sunday they were drinking more or less during the day, and in the evening Stevens wanted Phillips to go after ore liquor, which they were obtaining from a point just outside the corporation. This Phillips declined to do, whereupon the officer became enraged and, it is said, drew a nif on Phillips in an attempt to make him comply with his request. Phillips drew his revolver and fired, the shot taking effect in Stevens' head, causing death within about three hours from the time he was shot.

Phillips surrendered to the authorities, following the shooting. It is said there were no witnesses to the affair, the men being alone.

Kinner Davis was given an indeterminate sentence on a double charge of rape. The week before court convened Davis came to Paintsville to get subpoenas for his witnesses. The sheriff and deputies happened to be busy and Davis was given the authority to execute the subpoenas. While doing this he is alleged to have committed the second rape. When his case was called for trial he had nothing left but to throw up both hands and beg for mercy. The jury was not much inclined to show him mercy on account of his conduct and the chances are that he will spend at least ten years in the penitentiary.—Paintsville Her.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 9.—Verdict of $10,000 was awarded against the Baltimore and Ohio railroad in favor of Mrs. Minerva R. Bogges, of Morehead, Ky. G. W. Bogges, the husband of the plaintiff, was killed in the produce yards of the company by a Baltimore and Ohio engine June 2, 190.

Bogges had come here with a car load of chickens and he was in the yards looking after his car when the accident occurred. The case was heard by Judge Cohen in common pleas court. Davis, of Reed, Shaw, Smith and Deal was attorney for the plaintiff. This was the second trial, the first one resulting in a disagreement.

C. J. Hall, mail carrier from Green-up to Whetstone, Ky., was arrested Monday evening and taken before Judge Womack upon a most shocking charge filed by his wife and son-in-law, named Alexander, accused him of having taken advantage of three of his daughters, one of whom is only twelve years of age.

Hall, who was represented by Jude Rardin waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond which he was unable to give.

Hall, who is a man of about 45 or 50 years of age moved to Green-up county from Floyd county, the same state.—Ironontonian.

CATCH CROPS & COVER CROPS.

A large supply of vegetable matter in the soil is absolutely necessary in the production of good crops. It not only gives to the soil the essential physical conditions, but the supply of soil nitrates is largely dependent upon its decay. In systems of farming where many of the products are sold and little stock is kept, it becomes difficult to keep the supply in the soil sufficient for the best result.

In the usual systems of rotation there are often opportunities between harvest time and seeding time of the crops employed in the rotation to plant some rapidly growing crop to be turned under to increase the supply of vegetable matter. Such crops are known as catch crops and where they occupy the land during the winter also receive the name of cover crops. The use of such crops may add greatly to the producing power of the soil, while about the only expense involved is that of the seed. Cowpeas, soy beans, crimson clover, vetch, rye and in fact any crop adapted to the season, may be used for the purpose, but of course the leguminous crops are to be preferred as they also add nitrogen directly to the soil.

Cowpeas grow rapidly and if sown after wheat or oats are harvested will give a good growth of vines to plow under. They may also be sown in corn at the last cultivation and while not interfering with growth of corn at all, provide considerable green matter by the time the corn is ready to harvest. Where crimson clover will succeed it is a most valuable catch crop, as most of its growth takes place in fall and early spring. The common practice is to sow it in the corn, usually during August as the shade of the corn plants seems to protect the young clover and it will succeed better than if sown without a nurse crop. It will make considerable growth by the time the land is to be plowed in the spring and serves as a cover crop also. Crimson clover is a good nitrogen gatherer. Rye is undoubtedly the most popular catch crop, and justly so. It should be used in all cases where the land would otherwise lie bare through the winter, except in the case of fall plowed soil-land. It not only will add vegetable matter to the soil, but will prevent the loss by leaching and washing of the plant food already there. It may furnish pasture when the land is in such condition that tramping will not injure it, but it should not be allowed to grow too large in the spring before being turned under or injury to the following crop may result.

Crops of weeds may be turned under with good results frequently, but of course should never be allowed to seed. In fact every opportunity to add something to the soil in this way should be taken advantage of. Soils with plenty of humus and vegetable matter in them seldom fail to produce paying crops.—E. J. Kinney, Assistant Agronomist, College of Agriculture, Ky. State University.

WELL DONE.

Mr. Underwood and Mr. Clark have met the sharpest test to which their leadership has yet been subjected. They have carried their point in spite of Mr. Bryan's opposition and have prevented party division. Furthermore they have added materially to the country's belief that the Democratic party, under its present leadership, can distinguish between a condition and a theory.

The wool schedule, as approved by the caucus, is in accord with the Democratic doctrine of a tariff for revenue only. It should command the solid support of the Democratic members of the Senate and can be opposed by the insurgents only through the abandonment of the principle on which they base their right to exist.

The Speaker and the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee have kept their heads, and, under no slight provocation, their tempers. In refusing to play politics, they have moved appreciably nearer the grade of statesmanship. And statesmanship, at the present moment, is a sorely needed quality. In so doing, they have been forced to go counter to the will of Mr. Bryan.

It remains to be determined whether Democratic success in 1912 or a theoretical declaration for free wool appears to the gentleman from Nebraska to be the question of larger moment.

We are authorized to announce that R. C. McCURE, of Louisa, Lawrence County, is a candidate for Representative in the Ninety-eighth District of Kentucky, comprising the counties of Boyd and Lawrence, subject to the action of the Republican District Convention, date for the holding of which has not yet been fixed. YOUR SUPPORT EARNESTLY SOLICITED.

Nothing that can be said or done can keep James B. McCreary from being the Democratic nominee for Governor and nothing but folly on the part of Democrats can keep him from being elected in November.—Elizabethtown News.

The Senate adopted the resolution amending the Constitution to provide for election of Senators by direct popular vote by 64 to 24. The Bristow amendment, giving to the Federal Government supervision of such elections, was adopted, 44 to 44, the ice President casting the deciding ballot. The House has already adopted the resolution.

Kentucky politicians who have been in Indianapolis recently assert that one of the largest literary bureaus conducted in the interest of the candidacy of Judge E. C. O'Rear for the Republican nomination for Governor of Kentucky is operated in the law offices of W. S. Taylor in the Indiana capital city. Letters are being sent by Taylor to Republicans all over Kentucky, it is said, urging them to vote for O'Rear. The mountain section of the State is being flooded with these appeals for support of the jurist.

It looks as though the charges made by the republican inspector of numerous irregularities in the County Superintendents' offices were made for political purposes. The inspector found some slight irregularities in a few counties and then rushed into print with the charge that the entire system in the state was in a bad way. He went to Versailles, and after a thorough and searching investigation of Supt. Hifner's office found it in admirable shape—in fact gave it as his opinion that the condition of the office was the best of any in the State. So far he has not had the fairness to note this exception in his blanket charge as to the State. For this reason it looks like politics of the peanut variety is having much to do with the inspector's reports.—Blue Grass Clipper.

SPRING BRINGS SORE FEET

With the advent of warm weather comes foot troubles to thousands of people. The increased temperature and heaviness of the atmosphere causes swelling and excess perspiration. This brings on a series of foot troubles. The treatment given below will be welcomed with joy by an army of sufferers. It acts like magic. "Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of Calocide compound in a basin of hot water; soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. Less time will not give the desired results.) Repeat this each night until the cure is permanent." All soreness disappears immediately. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off. Bunions are reduced to normal and the inflammation drawn out. Sweaty and smelly feet, tender and swollen feet need but a few treatments. This Calocide is a remarkable drug. Formerly used only by doctors but any druggist now has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. A twenty-five cent package is claimed to cure the worst feet.

THE JEWEL OF THE BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDIES

THE FALL OF SAMARIA
II Kings 17:1-18 June 18

He that delayeth often reproved hardness his neck shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy. —Proverbs 29:1

HOSHEA, King of Israel, the central personage of this study, is paid the rather doubtful compliment of being less evil in the Lord's sight than some of his predecessors. Gradually the Assyrian kingdom had extended its control to Israel, and Hoshea maintained his throne by paying tribute.

This continued for several years until the King of Israel thought himself sufficiently in league with the Egyptians on the south to refuse further tribute money. In consequence, the Assyrian army advanced and laid siege to the capital city, Samaria. It seems astounding, indeed, to learn that the city withstood the siege for three years. The end came in the ninth year of Hoshea, and signified the end of the ten-tribe kingdom, the people being transported by their captors several hundred miles to another portion of the Assyrian empire.

The overthrow of Israel, recounted in this study, we are directly told, was a judgment from the Lord. "Therefore the Lord was very angry with Israel and removed them out of His sight; there were none left but the tribe of Judah only."

Sin tends to national destruction in a very natural way—by sapping the vitals of the people of the nation. But in Israel's case there was something more than this. God entered into a special Covenant with that nation by which He bound Himself and they bound themselves.

Israel agreed to be God's people, to serve and obey Him faithfully; and God agreed that, if they would do so, He would specially favor them and look out for their interests, their flocks, their herds, their health, their prosperity; all were to be blessed so long as they were loyal and true. On the contrary, God specially pledged Himself that if they as a people proved unfaithful to the Covenant, He would specially chastise them, punish them, deliver them to their enemies, etc. Thus Israel's prosperity or defeat indicated surely the Lord's favor or disfavor, in a manner not applicable to other nations.

Destroyed Without Remedy
Our text, taken from Proverbs, tells what will be the final outcome of any conflict between God and the sinner. Whoever shall be remanded to the Second Death, there will be no hope for him.

The philosophy of this is plain: Adamic death, which comes to all men as a result of Adam's sin and his condemnation as a sinner, is to be entirely wiped out, and Adam and all of his race are to be fully released from it.

Those of us who, as the Spirit-begetten Church, enjoy this favor in the present time, must not expect any further favor along this line in the future, for Christ died no more; and only one share in His redemptive work is provided for every member of the race.

When in the future all the world are brought to a knowledge of the Truth, the grace of God will then be to them "a savor of life unto life, or of death unto death," as it is now to the Church.

Israel's Promised Restitution
The Israelites suffered the penalty for their failure as a nation: they were destroyed, but not without remedy. Indeed, the Bible tells us that in the end of this Age, as soon as the election of the Church shall have been completed and the first Resurrection accomplished, God's favor will return to Israel, the twelve tribes, and their regathering will be the first blessing to humanity under Messiah's glorious reign.

St. Paul brings this matter to our attention very explicitly in his letter to the Romans. (11:25-32.) The logic of his argument should be carefully noted, including the fact that Natural Israel will receive mercy at the hands of Spiritual Israel—in the Kingdom.

The nation of Israel transgressed Divine commands, and was therefore worthy of punishment—but this did not signify that the nation would become alienated from the Divine mercy which God had already intended and sent through Abraham.

After Israel, in the days of Hosea, at any other time, nor any other nation, knew anything about purposed immortality which God through His Son proffered to mankind. As the Apostle says, "This great Lord and we are spoken by our them that have turned unto us by" —Heb. 2:3.

ISONVILLE, KY.

Isonville is a village of about 50 inhabitants, situated just below the forks of Newcomb. It has three stores, the postoffice, a blacksmith shop and school and church house. A railroad has been projected through here and our village is nicely located to make a thriving town when it is built. Our soil is good, and our land is also rich in coal and other minerals, and we know of no reason why we should not have a thriving little town.

The Regular Baptists have changed their meeting from the 4th Saturday and Sunday to the 1st Saturday and Sunday in each month at this place.

Sunday school at two p. m. Sundays.

A horse valued at about $150 was stolen from John F. Mason, on the night of May 29th. The next morning when Mr. Mason went to feed his horse he discovered that the horse was gone; and the hay he had given him on the night before was still in the trough uneaten, indicating that the horse had been taken in the earlier part of the night. After some skirmishing Mr. Mason found tracks of the horse leading down Newcomb creek. He took up the trail and started in pursuit and in the evening of the second day, found the horse hitched under a rock house, or cliff, in the head of Bellstrace, a small stream flows into Dry Fork, between Webbville and Willard. The thief made good his escape, a posse watched the spot where the horse was found hitched and at daybreak next morning discovered a man who, when saluted, ran for life. A deputy sheriff fired several shots after him, but he would not halt and escaped in the brush. This is the first real horse stealing that has occurred in our vicinity for quite a while and the people are greatly stirred up about it.

We have the name of the one who is thought to be the desperado. He had been to Mr. Mason's on the evening before the stealing and wanted to trade for the horse, but was refused. His horse was left a few miles down the creek and died next day, and he was missing from the neighborhood. S.J.P.

BATAVIA, OHIO.

By requests of my many friends in Lawrence county, Ky., to write them I thought I would take the short method and write to the News. We left our old Kentucky home May 25th, and received our household goods here the 26th. I find very clever, friendly people here. There are a great many Kentuckians here and some from W. Va. Good churches and schools. We went to Sunday school and church Sunday. We live on the pike, within 10 minutes walk of the Interurban and Bethel-Traction line. The land is strong limestone. The surface is level, rolling and hilly. All kinds of grain do well here. Alfalfa and blue grass are natural growths here. A great many farms are engaged in the dairy business here. We have market for everything at our door. The grocery wagon comes to our door and takes our butter, eggs and chickens, and the fresh meat wagon comes along and you can get a steak or roast. We are 23 miles east of Cincinnati, on a high plain about eight or nine hundred feet above the sea level. We are 2 1-2 miles from Hamlet, 1-2 mile from Mount Holley, 5 miles from Batavia, the county seat of Clermont county, 5 miles from Bethel and 3 1-2 miles from the high school at Amella.

We put on our farming harness last week and went to work in earnest to get our corn planted. We planted 15 acres last week and worked our potatoes.

It has been very dry here, but we had a nice rain the 3rd. Elmer went to the city Sunday. There are some familiar names here: John Brown, Wm. Shannon, W. S. Davis, Chapman and Edwards and many others. T. J. CHAPMAN.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN.

COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE.

Life will always be to a large extent what we ourselves make it. Each mind makes its own little world. The cheerful mind makes it pleasant and the discontented mind makes it miserable.

A home where the golden rule is lived is the nearest possible approach to heaven. The day comes all too soon when the household is scattered—the boys and girls, alas! girls no longer—are gone to make homes for themselves, elsewhere; when some perhaps, are laid away from our sight, out of reach of kind words of helpful deeds. Happy are we if no sorrowful thoughts haunt us, of hasty words and unkind deeds, if only pleasant memories remain. We may, if our means allow, make our homes beautiful and attractive, and it is well to do so. But without the true spirit of home, it will be but a cheerless and desolate mockery—while the humblest cottage where love dwells and kindness reigns, may most beautifully exemplify the sweetness and blessedness of home.

The mother who spends most of her time fussing over the wardrobes of her children and herself, starching, ironing and decorating and making them fashionable, will find the lessons she taught cropping in dunder; in vanity that prevents the development of solid character and useful habits.

One may be very happy a while away from home, but he is very glad to return to it. The plainest old familiar dish is better than the daintiest epicurean bill of fare abroad. One's own little room, with its handy, compact belongings, is preferable to all the marble halls, swept through by silken clad dames.

A stranger, entering a household knows whether the key note there is high or low. There are houses, affluent wealth and culture, where the discords are incessant, and the meaning of life no higher than that of brutes. But no symphony can compare with the significance of daily life, in a family of gentle words and noble conduct.

Others may love as fondly, but never again while time is ours, shall any one's love be to us as fond, as tender, as devoted, as was that of our dear old trembling mother. Through helpless infancy her throbbing heart was our safe protection and support, and through the ills and maladies of childhood, her gentle hand ministered and soothed as none other could. We feel animated to struggle more manfully in the great battle of life, when we remember our mother's holy counsel to us in childhood's early dawn and in the slippery paths of youth.

It should be the aim of all to give the girls just as broad a business education as the boys. It makes them capable of taking care of the family, if such responsibilities are placed upon them; it broadens their ideas and makes them nobler and better. Girls as a rule, are fully as clearheaded as boys when young, but if, as is the common practice, the girls are brought up to do nothing, to think but little except of dress and amusements, they fall far behind the young man, at age of twenty, in mental ability.

There is a very real danger that the mother of a large family may never fully come to know her children, and gain that influence over them for good individually which is so desirable that every mother should have. We do not hesitate to say that it is absolutely impossible for a woman to become the confident and friends of her children unless she weekly—nay, daily—spend some short time alone with each. Only in this way can each child feel the security of his or her ownership of that precious mother.

Brother, when you come in form work in the evening, we all know you are tired, but put on your best look and assume a happy mood; do not frown if the floor is not swept, nor supper ready. Engage the little folks just a little while and get them to looking forward to your coming with pleasure. It will help to happily home wonderfully.

A child should be made to feel that his home is indeed a home, the happiest place in the world, not merely an outward shelter and a resting place, but a center of enjoyment, sanctified and purified by love, the thought and remembrance of which should be the safeguard of his life as he goes forth and proportion to his character.

While it is comparatively easy to be polite toward strangers, or toward people of distinction, whom we meet in society or on public occasions, still it should be remembered that it is at home, in the family that an everyday politeness is really most prized, coming as it should from the kindly feeling of the heart.

Of all places on earth, home is the most delicate and sensitive. Its chords move with a breath; its fires are kindled with a spark; its flowers are bruised with the least rudeness. Here our hearts wear no covering, no armor. Every arrow strikes them, every old wave blows full upon them. If we would have a true home, we must guard well our thoughts and actions.

The man who never praises his wife deserves to have a poor one. And the man who praises a good wife more than she deserves hasn't been born yet.

When crape on the door tells of a mother gone, only those who have moistened a mother's grave with their tears can fully understand and read aright the black threads in the bow.

She formerly lived here and is a bright good girl and loved by all who know her. She is the daughter of Z. H. Moore and wife who now live in Portsmouth, O. She was born and raised here in Lawrence county and for several years lived a near neighbor to us and we are certainly proud of her success, and predict for her a bright future.
